RECOVERY PLAN HEARINGS SEE SLOW PROGRESS

Bill May Not Be Ready for Debate by May 1; Anonymous Letter on Campaign Against Program Read

WASHINGTON.—House committee hearings on the administration re-priming and relief program are progressing so slowly today that some members predicted the legislation would not be ready for floor debate by May 1.

Leaders had hoped that if the bill reached the House by that date, it would be ready for President Roosevelt's signature three weeks later.

Secretary Hicks was called before the committee today to discuss resumption of a broad public works program, inasmuch as he has served as FWA executive director.

Simultaneously Representative (D-NY) proposed that FWA be made a permanent branch of the Interior Department.

While legislators were discussing the spending-levying program, Speaker Bagley today read in the House a letter from an anonymous letter writer which President Roosevelt had received.

"I thought you (and Jim Farley) would be interested in copies of the new proposals about the work on members of Congress against your recovery program."

Representative Michener (R-Mich) interrupted Bagley to remark that he also submitted "a letter" which was circulated among workers urging Congress to vote for the program.

Representative Woodcock (R-Mich) declared new appropriations for the program would be "not be a huge campaign fund for the 1938 elections."

Chairman O'Connor (D-NY) of the House rules committee said in a radio address that many persons believe the spending-levying bill is "only a temporary palliative—a hypodermic injection to a body smashed up by vicious needs through depression and possibly amputation."

O'Connor, who led the House fight to end the program, urged prevention of "any government competition with private business."

President Roosevelt, who will discuss the business situation with Henry Ford tomorrow, may send Congress a message late this week.

Vienna.—The conservative newspaper Bechtelpost is apparently inspired, front-page editorials today attacking the Czecho-Slovakia as now constituted would have no another year.

Condition Satisfactory.—Former Vice President Charles McNary underwent an operation for appendicitis today, which was reported a satisfactory recovery at Roosevelt Hospital today.

BARKLEY DOUBTS SENATE WILL OK TAX EXEMPTIONS

Similar Plan Voted Down When Tax Revision Bill Was Considered; Immediate Action Not Demanded

WASHINGTON.—Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic floor leader, said today it was "in the realm of doubt" whether the Senate would approve President Roosevelt's tax exemption recommendations.

Mr. Roosevelt suggested Monday that Congress enact a bill repealing the Federal estate tax from future federal and state securities loans and salaries.

Clark said today that Mr. Roosevelt's message might bring many Senators around to supporting tax exemption legislation.

Most congressional leaders in the Senate are opposed to the exemption would have originate in the House ways and means committee.

3rd Party Plan Hazy As LaFollette Calls Meeting Of Liberals

WASHINGTON.—Governor Philip La Follette's call for a meeting of liberals at Madison, Wis., yesterday is attracting little interest among legislators seeking to ascertain the potential strength of a national party.

Representative O'Connell (D-Mont) has contended that the Madison conference would offer an opportunity for liberals to pledge support to the President for another term.

Although they left was predicted by the insurgent General Francisco Franco's troops were ordered to withdraw from the city of Madrid.

Insurgents' only claim to an advance yesterday was in the form of insurgent airplanes raiding Valencia, former Government capital, and wounding 20 persons.

WATER CYCLE BUILT FOR TWO

PARIS.—Premier Edouard Daladier put the final touch today to his plans for Anglo-French military and diplomatic cooperation intended to isolate Germany and thwart its dream of a middle European empire.

The premier made known his flat opposition to any four-power pact that would include Germany.

These points, together with France's British cooperation in joint purchase of war materials, were announced by a unified command in event of war.

Belgium was approved for rebuilding France economically, especially approved by the full cabinet yesterday.

Michigan Argue On Philippine Palace Warrants Dismissed In White Bride Case

WASHINGTON.—The House usually drops its suit for the common man with his five-year fiat, car and mortgage and when it discovers that the government was about to build two handsome palaces in the Philippines for Commissioner McBurn and his successors, its members went into an ecstasy.

Democracy defended the spending. Part of the palace will be used for offices and besides, interjected Representative Hook, a Michigan Democrat, "It is not a Republican administration that wished the Philippine Islands on us."

Do You Like Statistics? To begin at the beginning, it seems that the site for the principal palace in Manila, was approved by Governor Murphy of Michigan when he was High Commissioner of the Philippines.

CIVILIANS FLEE SICHOW AREA JAPS REPORT

Nipponese Driving Forward Savagely Near Lunghai Railway; Shakeup in Navy Command Listed by Tokyo

SIKHOAI.—Japanese driving forward savagely only 12 miles from the east-west Lunghai Railway, the objective was four months of fighting, reported today the entire Sichow area was being evacuated by Chinese civilians.

A Japanese army spokesman said several observations showed all roads to the north blocked with Chinese farmers carting their belongings southward and westward, in apparent expectation of the rapid Japanese advance upon Sichow.

At the same time a wide shakeup in the Japanese naval command in Chinese waters was announced.

Trained to unadmitted posts were Vice Admiral Kiyoshi Hasegawa, commander-in-chief of the Third Fleet Command, and Rear Admiral Tadao Matsuoka, commander of the special naval landing party in China.

GOP-Sponsored Plan Would Delay For Year Admission Of Proposals To Electorate

W. S. Bennet of N. Y. City Suggests Convention Reopens July 14 Until November 14 and Then Resume Work Of Drafting New Organic Law; He Believes Election In Fall Would Be "Worst" Time To Submit Revision

ALBANY.—Possibility of delaying submission of revised state constitution to the electorate until 1939, instead of next November as now planned, developed today through a Republican-sponsored proposal put before the constitutional convention.

Delegate William G. Bennet, New York City, today introduced a resolution that the convolve reconvene on July 14 until November 14, then reconvene after the general election, and then resume its work of drafting a new organic law for the state.

It seems to me that the election in November of this year would be the worst time to submit a revised constitution to the people, Bennet said.

His proposal would provide more time for the people to think the proposal over.

New Plan Proposed By Electric Firm For Rural Lines

A new procedure in arranging for extension of rural power lines has been proposed by the New York State Electric and Gas Corporation, subject to approval by the Public Service Commission, officials of the corporation said today.

Under the suggested plan, the company agrees to build lines if customers to be served advance funds at the rate of $1,200 per mile. These advances would be repaid in full by the company, in a series of annual payments equal to half of the revenue derived from the extension concerned, officials state.

Whether rural construction will be appreciably affected in the Corning vicinity under the plan is not known. Company officials say that most of the areas in which such extensions have been covered.

The proposed plan applies to the Corning, Hornell, Danville, Perry and Warsaw Districts.

Cosmetic Manufacturers File $1,000,000 Libel Suit

NEW YORK—The Herza Laboratories, Inc., of 77th Ave., filed a $1,000,000 damage suit against the American Medical Association, Friday charging one of its products had been libeled.

The laboratories accused the Association and Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association, who was made a co-defendant of publishing "certain false, malicious, defamatory, slanderous and libelous statements" concerning a cosmetic which it manufactured.

Today the boys started paying off on the 6 1/4-pound son born Sunday to Mary, Tony's pretty wife and help-mate at his spaghetti palace. "That kid ain't gonna be no fighter or no dope like me," said Tony. "He's gonna go to school, learn some and be real smart."

BLOSSOMS IN WESTERN N. Y. FRUIT BELT APPEAR TWO WEEKS AHEAD OF SCHEDULE

BUFFALO—Encouraged by warm weather, the vanguard of billions of blossoms in the New York State fruit belt are two weeks ahead of schedule.

Farmers from the Hudson River to the Niagara frontier look on anxious eyes on their thermometer because freezing temperatures during "blossom time" would cause widespread damage. Farm Bureau agents reported that a cold spell about 10 days ago destroyed 25 per cent of the potential sour cherry crop in Orleans County, growers said.

First to report trees in bloom was Russell E. Granger, Monroe County agent. They were sweet cherries.

Warm weather has advanced Monroe County apples 20 days ahead of last year and they should be in blossom before May 1, Granger explains. If weather permits, peaches also were "coming fast."

In Wayne County, Farm Bu-

er, Niagara Farm Bureau Agent D. M. Dalrymple asserted, was for "a fair crop but considerable under last season's bumper yield."

As the first blossoms appeared, Granges and schools made preparations to select their candidates for "apple blossom queen" at the annual Western New York Festival in Le Roy May 21.

A similar Hudson River Valley apple blossom festival, over which a queen will preside, will be held at Kingston May 6 to 8.

While bureau officials reported some cold weather damage to peaches and cherries during the winter in the Hudson River Valley, they said it was slight.

Apple blossoms are beginning to open in the valley below Columbia County, and all fruit in the lower Hudson area are "slightly ahead of last year," they reported.

Review Denied In Citizenship Case

WASHINGTON—The Supreme Court refused Monday to review a new test case to determine whether citizenship should be denied aliens who refuse to serve in defense of the United States.

The tribunal declined to pass upon an appeal by Abraham Warrentin, a Monrovia minister of Chicago who was refused citizenship in the Federal District Court at Chicago because he declined, for religious reasons, to take the required oath.

Several years ago the high court refused to permit Rooka Schwimmer, a Hungarian, and Douglas C. Macintosh, a Canadian, to become citizens. Each had refused to promise to bear arms.

A constitutional election is the means by which qualified citizens express the policy of government...

Under the policy of taking property away from its owners by confiscation and distributing it to the wrong

Gifts of material value made from the government to the franchise and disqualify the voter.

This type of bribery is worse than the ordinary type. As a rule, those who are paid for their votes

Whatever may be the theories of the voters, the fact is that the national election will be held in the name of the people

This does not mean that each voter may gain in material things as a result of an election.

It is not the duty of the government to determine the general policies of the government.

Philadelphia Existed As "Wicaco" Year Before Birth Of William Penn, Credited With Founding Of City

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., — One year before William Penn was born, Philadelphia, the city which history credits with his founding, already existed as Wicaco.

This was cited here today by Dr. Amundson Johnson, of the Swedish-American Tercentenary Association, as one of many little-known facts regarding the important part played by the Swedish people in the early history of America.

Indefatigable in Swedish-American history, Dr. Johnson declared, has been stimulated by the nationwide Swedish-American "300th Anniversary Celebration to be held in early June, and the campaign now in progress and ending May 14th, to create a $750,000 endowment fund for the American-Swedish Historical Museum in Philadelphia.

Dr. Johnson is curator of the museum.

The anniversary celebration commemorates the landing of the first Swedish colonists on the site of what is now Wilmington, Delaware. The Swedish settlers, who are eager to learn of the lives of their hardy forefathers, and information scarcely previously known, is rapidly spread from coast to coast.

For 17 years, from 1638 to 1655, parts of what are now the states of Delaware, Pennsylvania and New Jersey constituted the colony of New Sweden, part of the domain of Queen Christina, known in portraiture on the screen by her modern countrywoman Greta Garbo.

Among the most distinguished of these was John Morton, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, whose wife as a member of the Pennsylvania delegation was the decisive one committing the state to secession.

John Hanson, grandson of one of the first settlers in New Sweden, was the first President of the United States in Congress Assembled after the adoption of the Articles of Confederation. During his term of office, the National Bank of America was established, the first Secretary of Foreign Affairs appointed and the consular system of the nation formed.

Swedish president of the congress, Hanson thanked George Washington officially for the successful termination of the war at Yorktown.

Swedish Colonists. The instructions of the Swedish crown to the colonial governor, Johann Printz, called for a fortified "First Constitution of the States of Pennsylvania and Delaware, Princeton, Gov. Printz's residence on Tinicum Island in the Delaware River, is often referred to as the First State House of Pennsylvania.

Penn purchased the site of Philadelphia from three Swedish brothers named Swenson. One of the oldest streets in Philadelphia is called Swenson.

In the events leading up to the Revolutionary War, Sweden played an active part. There were 13 original states at the time the war broke out.

Among the most distinguished of these was John Morton, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, whose wife as a member of the Pennsylvania delegation was the decisive one committing the state to secession.

John Hanson, grandson of one of the first settlers in New Sweden, was the first President of the United States in Congress Assembled after the adoption of the Articles of Confederation. Fair Enough by WESTBROOK PEGLER

Mr. Pegler's column gives expression to his personal opinions which may at times be at variance with the editorial policies of The Evening Leader.

Sees No Reason Why Public Officials Should Not Pay Income Tax

Senator Harry Byrd, of Virginia, estimates the number of State, county and municipal employees, hereinafter referred to simply as State employees, at four million. A year ago, however, George Brabson, a special attorney in the Internal Revenue Department in Washington, estimated their number at 4,891,000. According to the World Almanac, the total number of jobs that industry was able to provide in 1936 was 43,843,000. Such figures can't be accurate but they are good enough to illustrate the fact that for every ten jobs that business can offer, State government provides one.

Many of these State jobs are rank fakes involving purely imaginary duties or none whatever. The city and county governments of Chicago, for example, are absolutely crawling with parasites of this type and in a conspicuous case in New York a couple of years ago a man holding a fat but useless position which was supposed to require intelligence was accused of being unable to write his name and refused to face a showdown on the question.

In business, where, generally speaking, every job has to show a profit and there are no securities except a few digests for readers and in-laws of owners and executives, the average pay in 1936 was $1,344. Senators had estimated that the State employees' average pay is $1,500.

Might I hit some of these? It would be not only unconstitutional to compel State employees to pay federal income tax but hardly worth the trouble. The probable return from the application of the federal income tax to this exempt Treasury at only $15,000,000, but that reckoning fails to take into consideration the fact that if members of this class were compelled to declare and pay the tax on their post-tax pay, many of those sources would be thrown into higher brackets.

Byrd, in an incomplete record for 1935, Mr. Brabson built a table about a year ago showing that only 4,200,291 returns were filed and that because of the personal banking at the base with exemptions of one kind and another, the number of taxable returns had exceeded 1,000,000. In 1931, the worst year of the great panic, there were only 1,525,546 taxable returns.

Mr. Brabson goes back to 1913, when the amendment became effective, to trace the development of exemptions. At the time, he says, the people generally understood that every person and corporation having a measurable income would be taxed to some extent. But, although the people had this thought in mind when they adopted the amendment, the first tax law contained jokers and outright immunities which reduced the base to a pin-point. And, since 1916 that small proportion of citizens who contribute anything to the federal government in income tax has been further reduced 50 per cent.

"The ratio of non-taxable income is appalling," Mr. Brabson wrote in the Tax Magazine. "In 1932 there were approximately 41 million persons gainfully employed. Add to that 10 million who, by conservative estimate, are not employed but receive income from various sources. That total is 51 million subject to tax. Out of that total in 1932 we find that less than two millions actually paid. That is, only 1.39 per cent of those having income are paying a direct tax in support of the federal government."

No Us and Anas About It. Mr. Brabson does a strong industry, in which they would have to pay the tax and not its cost and about it. He refrains from saying also that most of them couldn't be blasted out of their public jobs because of their precious efficiency, which he speaks of with such great Constitutional piety, is notoriously low and the requirements for job-holding under public jobs have nothing to do with ability.

Anyway, there you are: about one-eighth of the total of employed Americans, with earnings about 25 per cent higher than those of the working-class, are spoken of with such great Constitutional piety, is notoriously low and the requirements for job-holding under public jobs have nothing to do with ability.

Anyhow, there you are: about one-eighth of the total of employed Americans, with earnings about 25 per cent higher than those of the working-class, are spoken of with such great Constitutional piety, is notoriously low and the requirements for job-holding under public jobs have nothing to do with ability.

Area Women Attend Opening Of Leader Cooking School; New Recipes Demonstrated

Enthusiasm Prevails As Mrs. Mary Kirk Conducts First Session At State Theatre; "Women's Party Food" Is Theme of Program; Instruction to Be Given Wednesday, Thursday and Friday

Women in Corning area gathered here today for the first session of the new Leader cooking school which opened in the State Theatre this afternoon with an enthusiastic session devoted particularly to women's "Party Food."

Enthusiasm was the keynote of the opening session as hundreds of women crowded the State Theatre for the demonstration which will be continued Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoon.

For BREAKABLE COOKIES Rich cookies break easily if they are allowed to cool on the baking pan.

FRONTY APPETIZERS When serving fruit cocktails, dip the rims of the glasses into fruit juice, then into confectioner's sugar.

Brown nuts slightly in a moderate oven before adding them to other foods. Doing so will freshen their flavor.

For Springtime Informality Arrange A Buffet Supper

Buffet supper for a spring meal. The dishes are simple and easy to prepare.

VIRGINIA HAM—AND MOLASSES Baked ham, diagonally scored and studded with cloves, is a tempting meat to serve at the informal buffet supper.

By Mrs. Alexander George, A.P. Feature Service Writer. The cooperative spirit of the buffet supper lends an easy informality to entertaining.

Some Good Hot Dishes Favorite hot dishes include chili con carne, baked beans, cheese rabbit, creamed chicken or tuna fish.

Green salads are especially delightful for a spring meal. Try a mixture of sliced radishes, cucumbers, asparagus, tomatoes, hard-boiled eggs, green peppers and onions.

The Right Starter Serve cocktails and canapés first. The guests can be enjoying those while the hostess puts the final touches to the rest of the meal.

Chilled fruit or tomato juices may be served in small glasses by the hostess or one of her assistants.

A variety of canapés can be offered with the cocktails. Serve toast bars or squares, for instance, spread with hard-boiled sliced pickles, aardies dressing and lemon juice.

Cherry or strawberry shortcake, available in whipped cream, is a popular dessert. Cherry or berry tarts topped with whipped cream are also popular.

Baked ham is a traditional mainstay for a buffet supper.

Lamb's Ideal Year-Around Menu Item

By Jessie Marie DeBoch. Once a purely spring meat in northern climates, lamb has become a year-around dish and favorite, by modern methods of production and distribution.

Lamb has an easily digested protein, it does not produce acid may purify as other meats, and is easily assimilated.

Some of the best lamb is available in the "fell" on the cuts of dried lamb and mutton. This "fell" is a thin, paper-like covering over the outside surface of lamb.

Cancer Menace To Young People As Well As Old, Report Shows

NEW YORK — That cancer as a cause of death is a menace to young people as well as to old is shown by a report of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company which says that in the United States 2,000 persons under age 25 succumb to this disease annually, and that this number equals 400 an children not yet five years old. And the total of 20,000 persons under age 50 who die each year from cancer is somewhat larger than the number dying from this cause of ages 75 and over. Studies of mortality among the white industrial policyholders of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company indicate that cancer is a relatively important cause of death throughout the life insurance company group. At every age period beginning with the group 15 to 18 years, while among white males in the age group 19 to 24, mortality from cancer is greater than from any other cause except diseases of the heart. Among white women the disease is the leading cause of death for the 20-year period from ages 35 to 54.

Stating that the problem of cancer is now in the forefront of medical research, the statisticians declare: "There is abundant evidence to show that the death toll from cancer would be reduced if an increasing number of cancers were treated in the incipient stages. Among the forms of cancer which present the best promise of success in this direction are some of those that begin to take a serious toll at relatively early ages, particularly cancer of the uterus and of the breast. Moreover, although we are still in the dark as regards the cause of cancer, it is undoubtedly true that a number of cases result from the lack of proper obstetrical care during and following childbirth.

The cancer problem is so serious that we can not afford to neglect any of its phases, least of all those where, with the means at present at our disposal, there is promise of reaping essential gains."

Miller-Leavenworth Form Partnership

The Millworth Motor company, a partnership of Howard Miller, of Woodbury and Earl Leavenworth, of Addison, has retained a showroom and sales office at 163 East Market street and will open the station at Seely Creek. It was this week as agency for Nash cars.

Mr. Leavenworth has been section chief since 1926 and 1921, and conducted an agency and garage at Addison and later a repair station at Seely Creek. He was a salesman for the former Corning Motor Company which operated at Seely Creek for a year ago as agency for Nash.

A native of Woodbury, Mr. Miller has been engaged most of his life in farming in that area. He had experience in the automobile business, however, working with Pride at Westfield, Pa. in 1920 and 1922. Between 1922 and '28 he was agent at Addison for the Buffalo and Susquehanna Railroad.

Owner of the property at 163 East Market street is Joseph B. Boien, 165 East Market street.

Air Mail Week Of Special Significance In Hammondsport, "Cradle Of Aviation"; Special Curtiss Stamp Available At P. O.

HAMMONDSPORT — In recognition of the late Glenn H. Curtiss and the important aeronautical history which he and his colleagues created in Hammondsport, N. Y., the Postal Department has authorized the use of a special cachet at the Hammondsport Office during the National Air Mail week, May 18-21.

It was a Curtiss aeroplane operated from Hammondsport by the U. S. Army, that carried the first consignment of air mail September 23, 1911. The cachet bears likenesses of Curtiss, beneath the words "Cradle of Aviation, Hammondsport, N. Y." This cachet is expected to have a special appeal to philatelists and is issued by Aviator License No. 1 holder by the Federation Aeronautique Internationale and he was the first licensed aviator in the United States.

Hammondsport Native
Curtiss was a native of Hammondsport and as a lad, being of mechanical turn of mind, engaged as a bicycle repair man in the village of Hammondsport. His progress was meteoric as within 10 years he had advanced from being a mechanic with little acquaintance to a figure of world prominence.

He was foremost in development of the bicycle to a motor-driven vehicle, establishing a factory at Hammondsport for the manufacture of motorcycles in 1901. During an operation of the motor-driven two-wheel mount, he won many speed trophies, in which he attracted the attention of Louis Thomas Scott Baldwin, who was engaged in experiments with dirigible balloons. The Curtiss motor was so endorsed by Baldwin that it was included in his dirigible experiments.

In 1907, the Aerial Experiment Association was formed at Hammondsport with the late Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, of telephone fame, as president. Curtiss became director of experiments in which "The Red Wing" was evolved. The Curtiss motor, designed March 1908 by Casey Baldwin a short distance over the front end of Lake Umbagog, Vermont, claimed to have been the first public flight of a heavier-than-air machine.

Merit Badges Given Scouts Of Troop 3

Merit badges from the last Board of Review were presented to members of Troop 3 of Corning Boy Scouts at the meeting Thursday evening at the First Presbyterian Church. Jack Ross and Harold Brown received the Sremanhood badge, and Harry Ferris, scholarship. Games were played.

At an auction held by the Melody Kings Harmonica Band, approximately $125 was raised. Much for the roller skating party were distributed.

Eight boys of the troop went on a three-night hike which started Monday morning and ended Thursday morning. Present were: George Henke, Jack Ross, Robert Richter, Richard Sullivan, Raymond Hargrave, Fred DeMuth, Louis Bacille, Harold Brown and Edward Hill, who arrived Wednesday noon. George Henke and Jack Ross were chafes. Games were enjoyed, and a dam started in the creek below the cabin. Pictures were taken by Robert Richter and Harold Brown.

The flight demonstrated faults in the primitive plane with the result that two other machines were constructed in the last machine, "The June Bug" Curtiss on July 4, 1908. This the first pre-announced flight in history. On the Champlain farm at Pleasant Valley south of Hammondsport, Curtiss flew the "June Bug" a distance of more than a mile, there by winning cash prize of $10,000 given by the Scientific American.

Efforts Recognized
Within the next two or three years, Curtiss commanded world recognition, winning the pup at the international flying meet at Rheims, France; making a flight over Albany, New York following the Hudson River, for which he won a $10,000 prize given by the New York World; the Gordon Bennett cup was another trophy which he won.

Continuing experiments the Aerial Experiment Association developed the hydro-aeroplane and flying boat. The planes were refined and perfected and Curtiss or flyers trained by him made records for distance flying, speed and altitude.

In 1911 the U. S. government accepted the first military plane designed by Curtiss and the following year he closed contracts for hydro-aeroplanes with England, France, Italy, Germany, Russia and Japan.

It was Curtiss who secured permission of the Smithsonian Institute at Washington to bring the original Langley plane to Hammondsport. "Prof. Langley had long devoted himself in building his plane brought down upon him and soon after his plane was wrecked, he died a disappointed man. When Curtiss brought Langley's original plane to Hammondsport, he installed a modern motor and successfully operated the primitive machine in flight. Thereby he vindicated Langley's memory and proved that the only reason Langley's plane failed, was because it lacked the proper type of motor.

First Flying School
It was Curtiss as a factor in the Curtiss Exhibition Company who established the first flying school in America at Hammondsport. Among his students were Beckwith Haven, Charles G. Wheeler, Isabel Stridger, J. Lansing Collins, Hugh Robinson, David McChoulson, Lincoln Beachey, Jack Vilas, William Thaw, George Van Ulaney, W. E. Doherty, Charles Willard, J. B. R. Verplanck, Harold P. McCormick, M. Hecksher, many of whom were prominent as pilots in the World War.

During the World War, Curtiss was at the head of the Curtiss Aeroplane factory in Hammondsport, where 3,000 men and women were employed night and day seven days in the week in manufacture of planes for the Allies.

After the World War, the U. S. government assigned Commander John H. Towers to prepare a fleet of flying boats to make a trans-Atlantic flight. Curtiss was an advisor in production of the M.C. or flying boat. Starting from Newfoundland N.O. 1, 2, 3 and 4 (four boats) flew to a point near the Azores where two boats descended in a fog to get their bearings and were unable again to rise from the rough sea.

Commander Towers in the fog, missed the Azores, but after several days safely reached Ponta Delgada. Another N-C commanded by A. C. Read reached Horta, continued to Spain, thence to England. It was the first scheduled aerial trans-oceanic flight.

Steben County officially opens its 1935 scholastic baseball season Friday when CFA encounters Hornell in Corning and Northside High travels to Bath to play the Havening nine in the first contests in the "Steben A League" division.

If arrangements can be made satisfactorily with school officials, the CFA-Hornell opener will be played Saturday instead of Friday, according to Bill Division of the CFA.

Each of the five "A" division clubs have many veterans to rely upon. The scholastic campaign ends the pennant race in the county will be fiercely fought. Painted Post, the fifth team in the county, does not open the first week, but starts its 1935 season with the Hornell and Bathers in Hornell.

Bill James, Doug Hollister, Duane Bills and others returning from the victorious team of the season last season make them a team to be reckoned with in the campaign of this year. CFA has a team which is a potential contender. The team is headed by Francis Smith, Joe Klutner and many more veterans to take up the team's work in the county. The coaching staff is headed by Coach Ernie Cramer for the first time in several years. The club should be a contender in the coming year.

Eight teams attended the first meeting of Twilight League but only five are to play in the county. The five teams are the John W. McCarthy, league president, was out of the city. The league is seeking a section for older fans asks that all of the players be interested in the game at the meeting.

Final standings for the C-2 League, which the St. York County leggers won by defeating the other clubs in the county, were announced today by George Strayer, league secretary. The NYWC won the first half and the 20th Century defeated the Knights of St. Paul for second half honors. The record of the league was a game record of 21 and high three game record of 7 and the Knights of St. Paul had won three game total of 2,677.

The standings follow:

It might not be a bad idea to begin taking the Yankees seriously in the current National League pennant race. Their seventh straight win scored yesterday at the expense of William Orin, who were held aside by a practically invisible rain at the Polo Grounds.

What makes the opening burst of the Pirates here more weight is the fact that they were taken up where they left off last season when they closed with 10 straight victories.

The St. Louis Cardinals lost to the clinch game in the only other National League contest and gained unrivaled possession of the basement. Paul Derringer, pitcher for the Cardinals, pitched a no-hitter yesterday for the first time in his career. He pitched four hits, four runs and three errors. They got four days before they were to be taken up by the New York Yankees by a score of 3 to 1. All of the other clubs are in a state of confusion.

The "local boy makes good" headline is getting plenty of use in Syracuse these days, even if it is a Syracuse pitcher, the mountainous pitcher, is reversing the procedure and sending home a right in his own backyard.

It is a southerner who beat the Red Sox yesterday at the University of Michigan and came up with the Chicago last year.

His seven-inning yesterday overpowered the other inter-league pitcher, who was playing a brand of ball which will appeal to sport fans.

Climaxing the affair was the presentation of the Keely Trophy to the pitcher, who was named as the pitcher of the year.

W. Keely presented the trophy to the pitcher, who was named as the pitcher of the year.

Older Players Seek Section In Twilight League

When those interested in reorganizing Twilight League met Wednesday at 8 p. m. at the League headquarters at the CFA, it was to seek that some provision be made for the older softball player.

"Why not organize two sections, one for those over 30 years of age and the other for those under 30?" a sports fan inquired.

Revised Municipal Bankruptcy Acts Upheld By Court

WASHINGTON.—(AP) The Supreme Court ruled constitutional Monday the revised municipal bankruptcy act which permits cities to file for protection in federal court, to agree with creditors to reduce their indebtedness in liquidation, and to reorganize.

The original act was said to violate state rights in a five to four opinion delivered by Justice McReynolds. Present members of the court who voted with him were Justices Butler and Roberts. Those dissenting were Chief Justice Hughes and Justices Brandeis and Sweeney.

New Cast To Present Play Which Appealed To Scores In First Guild Performance

Four New Actors to Take Part in "The Mollusc" at CFA Tonight; Characters Are Commended for Opening Presentation; Academy Guild Players Offer Enjoyable One-Act Play; To Ballot On Directors

"Mollusc" became a household word today as Corning and Painted Post residents who missed Monday night's smash hit Little Theatre Guild play, "The Mollusc," prepared to attend tonight. Not confined to Guild members but present for the general public, Guild officers emphasized the program will begin at 8 o'clock in the Corning Free Academy auditorium.

The two casts of the play have been coached differently by Director Leon F. Robbins to place entirely different interpretations on the subtle comedy. For this reason many persons from Monday's respective audiences several hundred indicated their intention of attending again tonight when Miss Katherine O'Haughey, Mrs. Robert H. Dalton, Henry O. Brunner and Willard Guntur will comprise the cast.

Characters in the brilliant performance of the play, which was written by Miss Marie Weston, were effectively supported Monday evening by John Tumpane as Miller, and Miss Ellen Winans as Lucille, the two crooks; Miss Gertrude Torney as Miss Jones; Thomas H. Brown as Mr. Garry; and Richard Wheat as the Police Inspector.

At the time of the curtain and between acts Monday evening was furnished by members of the Philharmonic Society Orchestra under the direction of Charles G. Corwin. The outstanding performance of Miss Marie Weston, directed by William C. Baker's "Mollusc" has taken the role of the heroine of the play, and becomes worse as her husband and the arrival of her brother, Tom from Colorado to her home in England, the situation becomes acute as she attempts to cure her and become complicated by the falling love with the charming man, Mr. Jones, whom Mrs. Baxter thinks she cannot do without.

After several receding impasses, the play reaches a delightful conclusion, splendidly done by Monday's cast. A play of intellectual humor rather than one with obvious laughs, the vehicle was chosen for presentation locally as an experiment by the Guild, and repetition of the same type will be urged upon the public's reception of the Guild's cast.

Following on next directors of the Corning and Painted Post Little Theatre Guild will be completed tonight.

Await ABC Decision In Tioga County

The effect of an injunction issued Saturday to the Tioga County Alcohol Beverage Control Board was awaited here on Monday by ABC members who are conducting a poll on a proposed ban on Sunday liquor sales in Steuben County.

The injunction was issued in Tioga by Supreme Court Justice Riley H. Heath upon application of liquor dispensers, who contend that the liquor law permits regulation of the hours only, not the day, during which liquor may be sold. Dispensers sought the injunction, which is returnable on May 6 in Steuben County court, to prevent the Tioga County board from putting into effect a ban on Sunday liquor sales. The ban was to have become effective Sunday.

Sea Lion Plays Hooky

From N. Y. Park Zoo
2 Nights In A Row

NEW YORK.—A. Amos, Brooklyn's parasailing sea lion, had his keepers in a frenzy to-day, trying to figure out how he had played hooky from his pool in Prospect Park Zoo three nights in a row.

The sea lion—just hundreds of pounds of good clean fun—swam over to the beach this Friday night and drove the captive bruno frantic with a series of reverberating Bronx cheers.

He escaped again Saturday night and frightened a taxi driver by trying to hitch-hike to Manhattan.

Sunday night Amos was on the loose once more. He ambled down a Flatbush street, bawling his merrily and leaving anxiety at the ladies.

A man bumped into Amos' smooth bulk in the dark and "carroted off."

"Fardon me," he said. "I'm a r-z-ump," snorted Amos.

"These foreigners!" sighed the man.

Later a crowd began to gather. Then there were the cats and Moe Maded, a zoo keeper, arrived. They unceremoniously rolled protesting Amos in a tarpaulin, carried him back to his pool and dunked him.

Monday night a watch was set over Amos to see how he conquers the six-foot fence.

Leaders Discuss Mussolini Playing Game Both Ways—Home Improvement To Win—With Britain, France, Germany

At a recent meeting of Home Bureau unit leaders in Housing and Household Management accomplishments of the past year and plans for the coming year were discussed. The meeting was in charge of Mrs. Ruth Comstock, Housing specialist, Mrs. Gertrude Cobb, Housing representative of the Executive Council; and Mrs. Lois Mathews, County Agent.

Leaders met in the morning at the Community House in Corning with Mrs. Comstock and Mrs. Cobb conducting the discussion on housing specialists and Mrs. Mathews in charge of Household Management. Following luncheon at the tea room the entire group discussed new lighting equipment and saw an exhibit of some of the newest ideas in conserving lamps which give inadequate or glaring light and lamps that give the proper amount and the right kind of light.

Representative attending the meeting were: Addison, Mrs. Thomas Hopper, Mrs. Floyd Van Nortwick, Mrs. Earl Beatty, Mrs. Raymond Dean, Arkport, Mrs. Frank Hurlin, Mrs. William Brown, Canisteo, Miss Amy Bradburn, Mrs. Duncan Boughner, Champlain, Mrs. Helen Hill, Hoagland, Greenwood, Miss Ellen Young, Horrell, Mrs. Martin Erickson, Howard, Mrs. Otto Roper, Mrs. Braded, Painted Post, Mrs. Lynn Westmore, Mrs. Ervin Parrish, Danville, Mrs. Harley Robinson, Mrs. William Paikner, South Hornell, Mrs. Louis Heberly, Mrs. F. L. Kellogg.

Suggestions made for projects to be worked out by Household Management for the coming year were: the study of home accidents, their causes and prevention; how to work out and make an index and catalogue for Home Bureau bulletins, printed material and recipes; the study of points to consider in buying stoves, mattresses and blankets; projects on house cleaning, home painting and kitchen conferences; made available to units who have not already taken this work.

In the housing group some suggestions for projects for the coming year were study clubs of such topics as old china, glass, furniture, etc. in the home. This to be worked out for various rooms; floor finishes and their care; selection of wallpaper; repair of electrical equipment; sewing, mounting, ironing and hanging pictures. These Home Bureau leaders are planning a tour for later in the spring when they will visit one another's home to see what has been accomplished and to help with discussion of further plans.

Frank L. McGovern, Aged 59, Prominent City Businessman, Dies Today After Operation

Conducted Local Grocery Since 1914; Served Elks As District Deputy; Funeral to Be Thursday

Frank Leo McGovern, 59, prominent Corning business- man who had gained wide- spread recognition in fraternal- istic as an Elks, died today at 8 a. m. at Corning Hospital following an emergency opera- tion Monday at 10 p. m. Mr. McGovern, who appeared to be on the road to recovery fol- lowing an operation February 15, suffered inflammation of the pancreas and had been ill since Sunday.

An energetic man of keen busi- ness sense, an adaptability and versatility that were beyond the boundaries of his city, Mr. McGovern had been a member of the Corning's old- est grocery store under one fam- ily name since his business was founded in 1817.

Mr. McGovern was actively engaged in this business since November 1, 1914 when he took over the operation of the business from his father, Thomas McGovern. He was in the local business for many years before he began a career in the local office of Corning Paper House, following which success here was attained by his management of the Elks Club and Elks Hall.

Mr. McGovern was born in Corning, June 26, 1878, the son of Thomas and Mary Deane McGovern. He attended Corning Pre- paratory and matriculated at Middlebury University. He returned to Corning and entered the employ of the C. H. Malby wholesale grocery house and later went into the wool business with his father, Thomas McGovern.

Sgt. G. Burnett Breaks ankle Bone While Making Arrest

Sgt. Charles O. Burnett of the Erwin State Police is recuperating at his home in Painted Post from a cracked bone in the left ankle, sustained while on duty Friday.

The injury did not prevent him from carrying out the arrest of Ernest Brockway Dickerson, charged with petty larceny, for the alleged theft of a radio and stak on the farm of Mrs. Erwin of Mrs. Cora Bentley, states Trooper J. P. Lyons.

Mrs. Burnett was taken from the steps of Brockway's home col- lapsed as the officer was enter- ing a house in Erwin. Trooper Lyons said. The Decker- son man received the charge of suspended sentence when arraigned before Justice of the Peace Olin Lyons.

Trooper Lyons is temporarily carrying on alone as officer of the State Police station at Erwin.

Recovered in Junk Heap Mrs. Lena Grotzschke of the Binghamton—In some- times, even money finds its way to the junk heap.

Representatives of a Binghamton department store called on Norman Benjamin, Junk dealer.

"We're looking for a packing box," they were explained. "We have a long search they found it. Reaching into one official it was taken out.

"I had been put there, Benjamin explained, by clerk after noon. "Two junk dealers were among the day's shoppers and had inadvertently been thrown away.

Miss Betty Jean McCallum Named Girl Scout Director Of Corning And Post Council

Kirkwood, Mo., Resident to Complete Duties As Interim Director June 21; Day-Camp Record High

Miss Betty Jean McCallum of Kirkwood, Mo., itinerant Girl Scout director, now engaged at Red, Wis., has been engaged to succeed Miss C. Mae Cryslar as local director of the Corning and Painted Post Girl Scout Council, Commissioner Mrs. Truman L. Jacoby announced today.

Miss McCallum will complete her duties at Red, Wis., and will come to Corning, Miss Cryslar will leave June 1 for Bridgeport, Conn., where she will take a position as director of the Girl Scout Council there.

The new director has had several months experience as an itinerant director and has a thorough background which includes an itinerant day-camp record. Mrs. Jacoby stated she has served as a volunteer leader in Scout troops since 1922.

Miss McCallum, 24, is a native of Denver, Co. She attended Hastings Teachers College, Washburn University, both of St. Louis, Mo., and Purdue University at West Lafayette, Ind. She majored in dietetics at Purdue and psychology at Washington University.

Miss McCallum received her early training at St. Louis, Mo., and took a course in day camping at Ledgewood, St. Louis. She served as camp director of the Ferguson Council, St. Louis, Mo., from 1933 to 1937. It was during her tenure with the Ferguson Council that she received recognition for day camp work.

One of the major phases of Girl Scouting in Corning is day camp program. Carried out at Camp Progress, Camp Pioneer, Camp White Oaks and Camp Hill Miss McCallum's experience in this field will aid her considerably in her new position, officials said.

As interim director, Miss McCallum has been employed in various capacities for a part time period. Small Councils which are not able financially to engage full-time directors employ a di- rector for a few months.
